INTRODUCTION

This edition of the Alumni Directory of the University of Maine is the second that has been published in the present form. Its purpose is to give, as accurately as possible, the address and occupation of graduates of the University.

The Directory is arranged in three parts. In Part I the names are given chronologically, by classes. The bachelor's degree is then given, followed by the curriculum pursued. Adanced degrees are indicated, and unless otherwise stated the University of Maine is, with some exceptions, the institution granting them. The home or residence address is given; the State is Maine if not otherwise indicated. Then follws the occupation and business address. Part II is a geographic index, and Part III is an alphabetic index.

Much effort has been given to obtain accurate information. Return postcards were sent all alumni and the returns carefully compiled. Fraternity directories and other authorities were consulted, but some could not be traced. A list of those of whom nothing is now known is printed at the end of the Directory. It is requested that any information concerning them be sent to the university office.

This edition of the Directory has been compiled by Forrest B. Ames, 1913, Secretary to the President.

INTRODUCTION

This directory of non-graduates has been compiled with the hope that it may help to bring all former students closer to the university and to one another. It gives the names of about 1,700 persons, and includes all who have not received degrees or certificates who have been in attendance not less than one semester, not including any who would have completed their work later than 1915.

Names are given alphabetically, in full, with years of attendance, curriculum or major subject, degrees received with place and date, occupation, and mail address. A single year, as 1898, indicates attendance for one semester; 1898-8 indicates attendance for both spring and fall semesters of the calendar year; 1898-9 indicates the college year.

Somewhat over 150 non-graduates are deceased. To these an asterisk (*) is prefixed, with the year of death if known. Occupation and residence at the time of death are given in parenthesis when known. All attempts to locate a few more than 100 failed. To the names of these a dagger (†) is prefixed, with the residence at time of registration in parenthesis. This number does not seem large when taken in connection with the fact that no attempt to locate non-graduates has been made by the university since 1899, and then only for those in attendance not less than a year and a half. In many cases the only information of record was that given at the time of registrtaion, in some cases 46 years ago. Information was received directly from about three fourths of those living. No addresses are given, except in parenthesis, from which mail has been returned to sender.

The geographic index is arranged alphabetically by states and towns. In no case is a name given when mail has been returned. Names are entered under the town which each individual gives as his mail address, even when it is known that he lives in one place and does business in another. For full addresses and other information it is necessary to refer to the alphabetic index.

The preparation of this directory was made possible through aid furnished by President Aley. Help has been given by fraternity chapters, secretaries of local alumni associations, and hundreds of individuals, all of which is gratefully acknowledged.

That this work has many imperfections is recognized by the compiler. For some of these he is doubtless responsible. Other are due to the fact that the university records are occasionally incomplete, especially for the early years, and the records of the College of Law were burned in the Bangor fire of 1911. For those who did not reply, the best information available has been given.

Corrections are earnestly requested. Particular attention is asked for the list of lost non-graduates and the names under towns. Send corrections or clues which may lead to them to the Alumni Association, together with changes in occupation and address. This will materially lessen the labor of preparation of future directories, which it is planned to issue from time to time.
